THE BRAVE ENGLISH.

The Fearful Odds They Fought Against at Modder River.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Dec. 4.—Details of the Modder River fight show that the Guards charged eight thousand Boer rifles and finally crossed the river. The enemy occupied a strongly entrenched position, their front extending five miles along the bank of the stream. They were well supplied with artillery and fought desperately. It is the opinion of the staff that there has never been such a sustained fire in the annals of the British army as that the troops had to face at Modder River. The British had no cover whatever and were simply mowed down. It seemed impossible to live through the terrible fire, but the brave fellows did not retreat an inch. The Boer fire was horribly accurate. They must have numbered ten thousand. The Highlanders made several attempts to force a passage of the river, but were exposed to such a terrible enfilading fire that they retired after suffering terribly. Subsequently part of the Guards got over and held their own for hours against a vastly superior force.

SABBATH MORNING SMASHUP

Florida Special Crushed Rear End of Freight Train.

A NEGRO FIREMAN KILLED

Engine 321 Demolished, Caboose and Two Box Cars Knocked Into Smithereens.

Early yesterday morning the south-bound passenger train No. 33, called the Florida special, due here at 5:30, came in nearly an hour late. A freight train was standing on the main line near Sergeant's foundry, 200 yards east of the passenger depot. The special was running at a pretty rapid speed when Engineer Dave Heaver espied the caboose of the freight. He reversed the engine and applied the air brakes but immediately the locomotive dashed into the freight with a fearful crash, waking slumberers all over that portion of the city and bringing to the scene hundreds of excited people. Crushing the caboose like an egg shell under a hammer, the big locomotive ploughed its way through the rear of the freight, utterly demolishing two freight cars, knocking a third off its trucks, and hurling itself with one final lunge of fury, sidewise and motionless, a headless, battered, sizzling monster of crushed iron, its throbs and sobs of escaping steam like dying gasps for breath amid the ruin it had created.

The engineer remained in his cab, and was unhurt beyond a few bruises. The fireman, Phil Hanner, was knocked to the engineer's side of the cab and his right leg was caught and crushed between a part of the cab and the tender. He remained in fearful agony, fast between the driven timbers, for more than an hour before he could be cut out and his sufferings relieved by opiates. His crushed leg was amputated early afterwards, but he died from its effect yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

None of the cars of No. 33, fine Pullmans mostly, left the track and the passengers experienced no hard shake-up, strange to say.

In the caboose of the freight train was a white man, named Caldwell. He was alone. How he escaped is a mystery, as the small car was literally ground to atoms, not a piece of timber being left that a man could not have shouldered and carried away.

The cause of the wreck is not definitely known. The freight was probably standing still on the track when it should have been gone. But a draw-head of one of the cars pulled out as the train was about to start, and before the flagman could get down the track to signal the incoming special, No. 33, leaped around the curve to destruction.

Wrecking crews were summoned and under the personal supervision of Superintendent O'Brien and Roadmaster Dodson and Superintendent of Construction Wells and other officials, a large force of men worked faithfully until 2:30 p. m. before the track was cleared for the passage of trains.

Thousands of people visited the wreck all day, watching the men and locomotives pulling and tugging trying to get the ruined engine onto the main line, so as to clear the siding, as the tracks are parallel at this place and the debris covered both tracks. It was the worst wreck that has ever occurred near this city, and it seems miraculous that no large number of lives were lost.

CONGRESS MEETS.

And Adjourns Out of Respect to the Dead Vice-President.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Large crowds attended each house. The senate was called to order by President Pro Tem Frye. Chaplain Wilburn offered prayer. Thirty newly elected senators were sworn in. A committee to wait upon the president and the house was appointed. Senator Sewall announced the death of the vice-president, after which both houses adjourned.

THE ROBERTS CASE.

Washington, Dec. 4.—A resolution will be offered in the house by Taylor in regard to the Roberts case. It refers to his right to be sworn in. A special committee of nine were appointed by the speaker to act upon the matter. Roberts will not be sworn, but will occupy his seat until Wednesday when such committee reports.

New Recruiting Officer.

Captain Zebulon B. Vance, Eleventh United States Infantry, has been designated as recruiting officer for North Carolina, with headquarters at Raleigh, in place of Lieut. Douglas Settle, who has been acting as special recruiting officer for the past six months. Lieut. Settle will probably join his regiment in Cuba, leaving here next week. The Greensboro office is a branch of the Raleigh office and it is probable that both offices will be made permanent recruiting stations. Captain Vance will take charge this week.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Dec. 4.

Miss Calie Futch and Clara Hamner went up to Greensboro this morning.

John Ferrell, Jr., and Miss Anna Woolen, of Randleman, were married in Salisbury yesterday.

A panacea for "all kinds" of ailments is being offered to his race and others who wish to buy the stuff by one negro medicine man at his tent on the vacant lot adjoining R. B. White's stable. A one-legged mule furnishes the noise for the "open air show."

The M. E. church was taxed to its utmost capacity yesterday morning. The occasion was a sermon by Prof. George H. Crowell to the masonic fraternity here. His sermon was inspiring and unusually interesting especially to the masons present and was enjoyed no little by the congregation. Prof. Crowell, as heretofore, gave a high standard of excellence and came up to it.

Several hunters from the north arrived here yesterday and went out to the home of Dan Hendrix, near Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Pickens arrived here yesterday afternoon on the 8 a. m. train from the north. They were on the Florida special which ran into a freight train at Greensboro yesterday morning.

When the regular 8 o'clock train which stops for breakfast here came in several hours late Sunday afternoon the conductor remarked to us: "Guess we haven't time to stop for breakfast this morning!"

On account of the lateness of the south-bound local passenger train yesterday several of our gallant boys were kept from seeing their best girls in Thomasville. Excuse them girls, this was one time they were not at fault.

Electric lights are in use at the Jarrell hotel and Ring's drug store. Quite a novel as well as useful invention. Dr. Sapp, of Randleman, introduced them here in connection with a brand of cigars manufactured in his town.

The show windows of some of our stores very forcibly reminds one that Santa Claus and his reindeers are fast approaching.

Mr. Snider who lives near Abbott's Creek lost a horse here Saturday afternoon. It seems that he led the animal into a stall back of White's stable, where two other horses were tied, but forgot to the his own. Soon after he left it is supposed that his horse began to pick feed from the ground near the other horses' feet and probably bit at them. Anyhow when Mr. Snider returned for his horse he found blood oozing from a hole in his head dead. A kind of "history" is connected with this horse. Just about a year ago on Sunday his former master, Harry Palmer, colored, was shot and almost instantly killed by a ball from a pistol in the hand of Macon Smithman, also colored, who is now serving a thirty-year sentence. So you see both horse and former rider were later on in a poor, hard working farmer and the loss is great to him.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

Wm. Honeycutt the Blockader Arrested in Tennessee.

United States Marshal J. M. Millikan received the following telegram this morning:

"Johnson City, Tenn. 'Have Wm. Honeycutt, who shot W. E. Greer, under arrest here, as per instructions of Marshal Austin. 'Nave and Watts. 'Deputy Marshals.'"

The bill of indictment has been forwarded to Johnson City, Tenn., and it is likely that Honeycutt will be brought to Greensboro for safe keeping until the next term of Stateville federal court.

Our readers will remember that Honeycutt is the blockader who killed Deputy Marshal W. H. Greer, who attempted to arrest him in Mitchell county, N. C., about five or six weeks ago, and then killed M. S. Phillips, the only witness to the Greer shooting.

It was reported several days ago that Honeycutt had been killed by Deputy Marshal George Pritchard, but this was denied by Pritchard. There was reward of $450 offered by the government authorities, for the arrest of Honeycutt, who is one of the most desperate moonshiners in this section of the country.

THE JUDGE EWART MATTER.

Senator Butler Determined in His Opposition to the Judge.

SOUTH CAROLINA DELEGATION.

Getting into Washington Slowly—Neither Pritchard Nor Butler Have Arrived.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Judge Ewart, who came to Washington to be present at the opening of congress will return to North Carolina on Tuesday as he is to hold a term of court in that state on that day. The judge appears confident of re-nomination for the judgeship of the eastern district of North Carolina, and equally confident that he will be confirmed in the matter by the United States Senate. Neither Senator Butler nor Senator Pritchard have come to Washington as yet for the session, and it is said that neither gentleman will be here before Judge Ewart has departed. Friends of Senator Butler say that he has not changed his view since the last session of the senate and that he will oppose the appointment and confirmation of Judge Ewart as tenaciously as formerly. Senator Pritchard, who is Ewart's principal backer and supporter, will arrive in Washington Tuesday. He said to be favorable to the appointment and confirmation of Ewart, and will doubtless soon after his arrival in the city again take up the fight for his friend. Nothing can be learned at the white house, of course, as to the president's intention in the matter, but many senators who have steadfastly supported Judge Ewart for confirmation are now known to be doubtful of the wisdom of the president in keeping up the fight with the senate over this office. Apparently there is no better chance for Ewart's confirmation than in the last session, excepting, of course, from the fact that the republicans have an increased vote in the senate. Senator Butler is determined in his opposition, and the rules of the senate afford him liberal scope for carrying out his opposition to the extreme.

Judge Ewart has been at the white house once or twice since being in Washington, and he believes he will be re-nominated by the president. Even if his name should not be again sent to the senate, Judge Ewart under the commission he now holds from the president, will continue to occupy the office of judge until the adjournment of the present congress, which will not be until the middle of next summer. If his name should be sent to the senate, he would hold the office pending the vote on confirmation, which will doubtless be delayed as long as Senator Butler sees any opportunity of warding off confirmation.

Judge W. Jasper Talbot, one of the present members of the South Carolina delegation, arrived in Washington Saturday night for the session of congress. For the present he is stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Representative Elliott, of Charleston, South Carolina district, is stopping at his old stopping place, Hotel Normandie. Col. Elliott, it is said is meeting with some opposition for re-nomination, but he expects to carry off the nomination next summer with ease.

Other South Carolina members in the city are Representative Lattimer, Fenley, one of the new members, and Norton. Senators Tillman and McLaughlin will, it is expected be in the senate on Monday.

Senator-elect Tallaferra, of Florida, has arrived in Washington for the session, and is registered at the Metropolitan Hotel. Lately the election of Senator Tallaferra has been a subject of considerable comment on the part of Ex-Senator Call. The charges brought by Call are not troubling Tallaferra apparently, and he does not expect the charges will be brought to the attention of the senate. It has been said that in view of the gravity of the charges, the senator might himself at an early day ask the senate for an investigation, but this report cannot be stated positively.

General Walker, of Virginia, the veteran confederate soldier, and republican, is in the city for the purpose of pushing his contest for the seat of Congressman Rhea. The contest for this seat promises to be one of the most bitter of the house contests. General Walker is popular with the Virginia members, but has some opposition among the Virginia republicans.

The North Carolina delegation seem to be getting into Washington very slowly. Up to Sunday neither Senator Pritchard nor Butler had arrived. In the house four or five of the members are here, including Bellamy, Small, Thomas and White.

Attention, Knights of Pythias. Notice is hereby given to the members of Greensboro Lodge No. 80, Knights of Pythias, that the officer for the ensuing six months will be elected, also the amendment to the by-laws will be voted on. This is a very important meeting and a full attendance is desired. Lodge opens at 7:00 o'clock.

DEAD MAN IDENTIFIED.

The Man Who Was Killed at Charlotte Friday Night by the Train.

The unfortunate man who met such a frightful death on the railroad Friday night was identified yesterday morning as Mr. W. A. Knowles, of Crab Orchard, better known as Abraham Knowles. His father, Mr. W. A. Knowles, lives at the Alpha Mill.

Mr. Knowles came to town Friday morning with a load of wood. He told his wife he would be back as usual, about dark. He sold his wood and it is supposed got to drinking in the afternoon and forgot about his wife and home. The last time he was seen alive was on Friday night.

He did not touch any of his wood. It was discovered yesterday morning that Mr. Knowles had left his tongue at the station, while he gave rise to the supposition that he might have had a collision and fallen on the track just before the train reached him. There was no whiskey on his person. The body was removed yesterday morning to J. M. Harry & Co's. 112 E. Market street, and placed in a coffin. A month or so ago, she said that "Abraham" was a good, kind man. He drank a little, but not excessively. She waited under the train until the wife of the deceased came, she having been sent for as soon as the identity of the man was proved. Her distress was pitiable. Her husband had left home well and in good spirits, telling her he would sell his load of wood in town and be back in the afternoon. "Dark came and it did not bring him," she said. "I waited upon him, but still he did not come. I strained my ears, listening for him until 11 o'clock, when I went to bed. I feared something was wrong. I got the news of his death about 11 o'clock today."

Mr. Knowles leaves five children beside his wife. He was a well-to-do farmer, and was making a good living. The remains were taken to Crab Orchard for burial.

DUMMY IN THE GRAVE.

Said to Have Been Buried for Defaulting Cashier.

Hanover, Pa., Dec. 2.—All Hanover is asking the question where is John H. Alteman. He was the trusted cashier of the First National Bank of Hanover. When he died suddenly about a year ago, it was found that he was a defaulter to the bank for about $50,000. Alteman stood high in the church and the defalcation was a great surprise.

Now comes the charge that he never did die and that a dummy was buried in his stead. Detectives are at work on the case and to settle the matter the supposed body of John H. Alteman will be exhumed from its grave in Mt. Olive cemetery. It is said that the grave is criss-crossed day and night to prevent anybody from opening it.

County Detective John B. Gamble said today he was watching the developments in the case, and when the body of the exhumed Mt. Olive cemetery will be on hand to take action if it turns out to be a dummy.

Ever since Alteman's death his friends have been defending him suits regarding the liability of his bondsmen for the defalcation, some of the latter having died before Alteman's death. The disposal of his estate has also been a source of contention among his creditors.

INDORSE JUDGE EWART.

Members of Bar in His District Are Unanimous for Confirmation.

Within the next few days a committee of lawyers from North Carolina will present to Senators Pritchard and Butler, of that state, an indorsement of Judge H. G. Ewart, who was reappointed to the bench after the senate adjourned last spring with his nomination unacted upon.

The indorsement consists of a letter addressed to the senators stating that Judge Ewart has presided over several terms of court in the western district, and is entirely acceptable to the bar of the district. It calls upon the senators to vote for Judge Ewart's confirmation. The petition is signed by every lawyer in each of the forty-seven counties comprising the district, with the exception of about a dozen gentlemen. The list of signatures includes ex-judges of the supreme court, ex-attorneys general, ex-district attorneys, ex-congressmen, members of both houses of the state legislature, and practically every lawyer of standing. The letter is signed by members without regard to party.

Judge Ewart is in the city for a few days, and is stopping at Willard's—Washington Post.

We can hardly blame you for not coming in through the mud and dirt we have had, but you will make up for lost time now that our cement pavement is complete. Prices lower than ever too. Fishplate-Katz Co.

ACTS OF TWO AMBASSADORS.

The return of France's ambassador, M. Cambon, to Paris on last Saturday may mean a little short-lived coolness between the French and English, accompanied by some meaningless diplomatic wrangling, which will have an end in the resumption of affected pleasant relations between the two countries without any benefit having resulted or the sacrifice of any notable dignity by either side. In other words Mr. Cambon's act may mean nothing—or it may be startlingly portentous. The latter idea receives strength in the news coming from Paris that Sir Edmund S. Monson, the British ambassador to France, has applied for a two-months' leave of absence.

It is stated upon reliable authority that the departure of the French ambassador from London is intended as a protest against Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's speech a few nights since in which the old fellow felt his oats and got wrought up and boasted of the prowess of England, of the warm friendship existing between the two greatest branches of the Anglo-Saxon race, and gave out a very palpable hint that if France didn't stop talking disrespectfully of the queen the lion might be tempted to spring across the channel. So these uneasy shiftings of the ambassadors of the two countries who have cordially hated each other since the day when Harold and William the Conqueror locked horns at Hastings, may be more significant than is generally supposed.

The feeling at London is that the relations between the two countries are in a critical condition. Whether the speech of Mr. Chamberlain was the match which started the small blaze which will leap out in the great war the world has ever seen, with England and America arrayed against the combined powers of Europe,—or whether a fizzle will follow like that which has followed other thought-to-be grave events in the east, remains wholly in the realm of speculation.

A gentleman from one of the northern cities was in Greensboro last week looking for a vacant store room in which to display some special goods. With the large amount of building that has been done in the city within the past few months, it is passing strange that he didn't find the room. Through the courtesy of one of our merchants he was allowed space in a store already occupied. This incident is suggestive of the remarkable prosperity with which we have been and are being visited. As fast as business structures are erected, they are occupied. Store rooms on South Elm are not allowed to have their floors swept of shavings left by the carpenter before some eager merchant or manufacturer leases it. That's how it is in Greensboro.

An eight-hour suspension of traffic on the Southern Railway is a stupendous affair. When the debris was finally cleared from the track yesterday about 2 o'clock to allow the long belated 33 to pull through, Greensboro was a lively place for the next several hours. There were no less than ten trains resting on either side of the city, consisting of vestibules, fast mails, locals and freights. The railroad men had their hands overrunning with work long after the congestion was relieved. And when all the trains had pulled out for north, south, east and west, it was time for the arrival of the regular trains from the north and from Raleigh and Winston. Yesterday was a lively day in railroad circles.

Yesterday's Philadelphia Record gives a photo-engraving of Congressman-elect Roberts and his three wives. In wife Nos. 2 and 3 there is a remarkable similarity of facial expression and general contour of figure. Both seem to be in the neighborhood of 25. But wife No. 1 wears glasses, looks about 30, has her hair done up in a ball on the back of her head, and her face expresses pent up coyness, grief or anger.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

BY J. W. TILLINGHAST.

[All communications intended for this department should be sent to J. W. Tillinghast, 415 Eugene street. All notices for publication should be handed in not later than 9 o'clock Monday.]

The managers of the Academy of Music are to be congratulated upon securing the New York Ladies' Trio, which appears tonight.

The following is from the musical Courier of last week:
At a private rehearsal of the New York Ladies' Trio last Thursday evening, at which a few invited friends were present, the artists consisted of Miss Rossi Gleich, violinist, and Mme. Flavia van den Ende, violinist, and Miss Hilda Newman, pianist, who played a trio by Godard and one by Chaminde with excellent taste and remarkable finish. This trio should meet with success on its tour, which begins December 1. The rehearsal showed that these ladies have given much attention to their ensemble practice.

There is a sympathy and decision in their playing, which comes from careful and earnest rehearsal. Miss Lillian Carlsmith, who is the vocalist with the Ladies' Trio, sang several selections especially arranged for her with accompaniment of the trio. Miss Carlsmith's rich contralto blends excellently with this combination.

The Washington correspondent of the same journal says (Nov. 25): "There will be so many good concerts next week that it is hard to decide which to attend. Among these is De Pachmann, then the Philharmonic concert, the Blachoff concert, and on Saturday the New York Ladies' trio."

This is, probably, the best company that will be heard in Greensboro this season, and it is sincerely to be hoped that the audience will be such as to encourage the local management in its effort to secure high class musical entertainments.

ADDRESS OF WARNING.

In regard to the outbreak of Small-pox at Terra Cotta.

North Carolina, Guilford county. Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of the authorities of Guilford county that there is an epidemic of small-pox at Terra Cotta Works in said county, and whereas, it is made the duty of said authorities to warn all citizens of the county and persons generally of the said epidemic and to urge upon all persons the importance of immediate vaccination in order that a scourge of that disease may be averted,

Now therefore, we the board of county commissioners and county superintendent of health of said county most earnestly urge upon all persons the wisdom and the duty of being vaccinated at once. Should the disease spread and the people neglect this warning and request, it may become necessary for us in compliance with law, and in order to prevent a devastating epidemic of this terrible disease, to order compulsory vaccination.

All persons who are unable to pay the expenses of vaccination, will be vaccinated free by the county.

A SLAP IN ENGLAND'S FACE.

French Ambassador Leaves London for Paris.

London, Dec. 2.—France's ambassador to England, M. Paul Cambon, returned to Paris today.

From Paris comes the news that the British ambassador to France, Sir Edmund S. Monson, has applied for a two-months' leave of absence.

The departure of the French ambassador, it is believed, is intended as a protest against Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's Leicester speech.

It is said that he will remain away until some explanation or qualification of Chamberlain's language has been publicly offered by Lord Salisbury. The feeling in London is that the relations between the two countries are in a critical condition. It was said at the French embassy tonight that M. Cambon had left on private business.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; also old, running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, felonies, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains, best pile cure on earth. Drives out pains and aches. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by C. E. Holton.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Tommy—"Pop, what's an ecsthesion?" Tommy's Pop—"I don't know exactly, my boy, but it must be a sort of family blotting pad that soaks up blots."

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store.

It takes more than liquid air to freeze out the microbes of life.

Son of an Ohio Merchant Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea.

My son has been troubled for years with chronic diarrhoea. Some time ago I persuaded him to take some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using two bottles of the 25-cent size he was cured. I give this testimonial, hoping some one similarly afflicted may read it and be benefited.—Thomas B. Bower, Glenwood, O. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Bartender—"You're too generous, Pat. It's a trait of yours." Pat—"Sure, it's not my trade. O'paid for de last round."

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

The man with the bee is often without hose.

Mrs. R. Churchill, Berlin, Va., says: "Our baby was covered with running sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured her." A specific for piles and skin diseases. Beware of worthless counterfeits. Howard Gardner.

Gaining a Wide Reputation.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston, of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and pained me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by O. E. Holton, druggist."

It's queer how the little faults we have ourselves become so great when somebody else has them.

"One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy I ever used for coughs and colds. It is unequalled for whooping cough. Children all like it," writes H. N. Williams, Gentryville, Ind. Never fails. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It cures coughs, colds, hoarseness, croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. Howard Gardner.

NORMAL NOTES.

Miss Halley's Death—The College Will Open on January 2nd.

Miss Kate Halley, one of the patients at the State Normal and Industrial College, died at 8 o'clock Saturday night, after an illness of about four weeks. The remains were carried to Scotland county, the home of the deceased, yesterday at noon, accompanied by Prof. J. Y. Joyner, a member of the faculty, and Miss Halley's sister, who has been with her throughout her sickness. Miss Halley was among the first of the Normal patients to contract the fever and her condition had been critical for several days. She was a lovely young lady, endowed with every grace of head and heart, and her death will be widely and deeply mourned.

The great majority of the patients remaining at the college are reported to be much better today, but one or two of the girls are in a critical condition.

Three of the patients were able to be carried to their homes today and it is expected that three or four will leave tomorrow. Those who left today for their homes are: Miss Annie Wiley, of Winston, Miss Susie Stafford, of Burlington, and Miss Susie Bryan, of Goldsboro.

Dr. McIver stated to a Telegram man this afternoon that the Normal would open on January 2nd with a very large attendance. Only two of the students have signified their intention of not returning, while he is in receipt of many letters from young ladies who have never attended the institution, asking for admittance at the next term.

The wells will be filled up at once and the city water, which has been given four tests and pronounced pure, will be used, and every nook and crevice about the buildings and grounds thoroughly disinfected.

The full report of Dr. R. H. Lewis, secretary of the state board of health, which is a comprehensive discussion of the cause of and remedy for the epidemic, has been published in some of the papers, but owing to the impossibility of finding space it cannot be reproduced in these columns today, and will appear tomorrow.

Sale of Jail Lot Approved.

The board of county commissioners met at the court house today in regular monthly session and transacted routine business.

A joint meeting of the commissioners and magistrates of the county was also held today. At this meeting the sale of the jail lot to the city was approved.

The board will meet again on Wednesday to award the contract for the erection of Guilford's jail.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

E. R. Carr came in from Trinity today.

I. E. Avery spent Sunday and today in Charlotte.

Capt. B. J. Fisher returned today from a short visit to Asheville.

D. W. Whitaker was here today returning to Raleigh from Oak Ridge.

It will pay you to read the column piano ad on the third page of today's paper.

Officer Pearce looked up a white man today for disorderly conduct and drunkenness.

Cold weather underwear for men, women and children is advertised today by Thacker & Brockmann.

Benjamin Franklin Adams enlisted at the recruiting office today for cavalry service in the Philippines.

Miss Jessie Thomas, who has been visiting her parents here for a few days, returned to Salem Female Academy at noon.

In train No. 37 yesterday there were five Pullman stock cars loaded with race horses, going from New York to New Orleans to spend the winter.

Yardmaster C. J. Adair, of the Southern, who was injured by falling between two moving box cars Wednesday night, is able to be out on the streets today.

The New York Ladies' Trio and Lillian Carris, who hold the boards at the Academy of Music tonight, arrived in the city this morning and are stopping at the McAdoo.

Policeman Cates pulled Jeane Perilla and Henry Harrison Saturday night for stealing a two-gallon jug full of whiskey. Mayor Taylor will give them a hearing this evening.

A white man who says he is employed by the Southern, stated to a policeman this morning that he was minus $50 on account of a theft at his boarding house Saturday. The money was in a suit of clothes and it is supposed that it was stolen by the fellow who repaired a stove in the room Saturday, but the police are unable to find this individual.

The remains of Mrs. Dr. J. W. Booth, who died of paralysis at Salem, N. C., Saturday evening, were carried through here this morning to Salem for interment. Prof. J. H. Clewell and G. Frank Jenkins, of Salem, met the remains here and accompanied them to Salem. Deceased was about 50 years of age and was a sister of Prof. Clewell.

WOODWARD-WARREN CO.

Begin Their Engagement Here Tomorrow Night.

The Woodward-Warren Company will open their annual engagement in this city tomorrow night at the Academy of Music. The sale of seats has been unusually large and every indication points to the largest audience of the season.

It must be gratifying to Mr. Woodward and his charming wife, Miss Bessie Warren, to know that their engagement here will be the source of so much enjoyment to their many friends and admirers. The players including the specialties will be changed at each performance, and the business for the first five nights will no doubt be very large. The company will arrive tomorrow at noon, from Bristol, Tenn., where they have had a most successful week.

Court Opens Thursday.

Guilford superior court opens Thursday at 9:30 o'clock, Judge George H. Brown, Jr., of Washington, N. C., presiding. The court was to have convened this morning, but Judge Brown failed to arrive as was expected. Judge Brown is detained at home by reason of the illness of his wife, who was injured by a runaway horse last week.

In Jail for Larceny.

The police Saturday arrested Harry Caldwell and Jim Parker, both colored, charged with stealing about $5 worth of hams and jelly from Pink Causey's store. They will be tried before Mayor Taylor this evening.

The Poet Burns.

Not the least of the advantages attending life assurance is the serenity of mind which attends the provident man lying on a bed of sickness, or when he is in prospect of death—so unlike that painful anxiety for the future welfare of the family not provided for. The poet Burns, in writing to a friend a few days before his death, said that he was "still the victim of affliction. Alas! Clark, I begin to fear the worst. Burns' poor widow and a half a dozen of his dear little ones, helpless orphans; there, I am weak as a woman's tear. Enough of this, 'tis half of my disease!"

"If you would escape the rock upon which the lamented Burns split," take shelter from the storm that is bound to spend its fury upon you when the fatal summons comes, by at once securing the magnetic contract offered by the Provident Savings.

Death of Mrs. Coble.

Mrs. Mable B. Coble, aged 71 years, mother of Conductors William and George Coble, of the Southern Railway, died of cerebral effusion at the home of her daughter at Richmond, Va., yesterday, and her remains were brought to this city this morning and carried out to Coble's church, for interment. She was a most estimable woman and her death will be greatly deplored.
